Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton is an outstanding firm. They're best known for their intellectual property expertise, but they have a very robust banking transactional practice, including significant M&A expertise. I have found that for most M&A transactions, they're every bit as good as some of the best-known Wall Street firms but at a much lower cost."

Kilpatrick is proactive, scanning the horizon for challenges and opportunities, and we solve problems before they arise. Clients trust our experience, legal acumen, and business savvy, but more than that, they appreciate our distinctive understanding of their businesses and the close, personal relationships we forge with them.
